

Estimated Number of Persons Living with AIDS, 1993 - 1998, by Race/Ethnicity, United States

Estimated Number of Persons Living with AIDS, 1993-1998, by Race/Ethnicity, for Asian/Pacific Islanders and American Indian/Alaska Natives, United States

Although the proportion of Asian/Pacific Islander and American Indian/Alaska Native persons living with AIDS has remained approximately 1% and <1%, respectively, since 1993, the number of persons of these race/ethnicities living with AIDS has increased. The scale of the previous slide does not allow for these changes to be noticeable; the x-axis on this slide is the number of persons. From 1993 to 1998, the number of Asian/Pacific Islanders living with AIDS increased from approximately 1,284 persons to 2,320. The number of American Indian/Alaska Native persons also increased, from approximately 559 to 971 persons.
